

A majestic setting in the heart of the vineyards

Betwixt mountain and lake, Château d'Aigle has reigned supreme in the heart of these renowned vineyards since the end of the 12th century. Once residence to the knights of Aigle as well as the Bernese Governors, its four prestigious reception rooms are now open to the public for seminars, cocktail parties, and dinners.

Exceptional ceremony, cocktails, banquets

Whatever your desire, Château d'Aigle has reception rooms that can adapt to your every need. From the ceremony of your civil wedding to the wedding breakfast with a cocktail in between, you can live a fairy tale marriage to the full at Château d'Aigle.

Exceptional Wedding» Ceremony

In response to requests from numerous engaged couples, this new service is offered by the Vaud civil service. The ceremony lasts around 45 minutes. The civil servant is legally qualified to officiate both the wedding procedure and celebration. Each wedding ceremony is organised in collaboration with the appropriate civil servant (choice of music, guest speaker, reading, etc.).

Marriages can be conducted from Thursday to Saturday, depending on the availability of the civil service. Reservations should be made at Lausanne's civil service administration centre. Several wedding ceremonies can be held on the same day.

Cocktail and wine of honour

After the religious ceremony in a regional church or for an exceptional marriage in one of the Château's reception halls, newlyweds can enjoy a prestigious setting whatever the season at Château d'Aigle. During summer months, the courtyards and garden of the Château set in the heart of the vineyards come into their own for wedding reception and cocktails. But in case the weather has other ideas, a room is always set aside for rainy days.

Banquets and dinners

Château d'Aigle works with 11 outside caterers. Whether bride and groom would like a traditional, refined or even gourmet dinner, their taste buds will delight in the varied menus to suit all budgets proposed by the registered caterers. Onsite professional kitchens guarantee that all dishes are cooked to perfection. Partnerships with chosen winegrowers provide a top quality and varied wine list.

Exceptional rooms for an exceptional day

A stunning choice of setting for that special event! Château d'Aigle offers four superb reception rooms. Daytime or night-time whatever the organised event, the extraordinary backdrop of Château d'Aigle will live long in the memory of all the guests.

In-house rules and regulations for the perfect celebration

Introduction

To make sure that all organised events at Château d'Aigle run smoothly, event organisers and guests are requested to observe the general rules and regulations of room hire.

These general terms and conditions apply to all events taking place at Château d'Aigle, in its courtyards and gardens as well as in Excellencies Hall located in Dîme House.

The general terms and conditions form an integral part of each rental contract.

Article 1 – Schedule for room hire

Up to two events per day can be held in the same reception room. The timetable for setting up and clearing up is determined by Château d'Aigle to allow each event organiser to enjoy optimum use of the venue.

The time that a hall is available for the event is written into the rental contract. Organisers can request exclusive rights for the whole day by paying a CHF 300.- supplement per room.

Events can be held every day at Château d'Aigle depending on availability of the rooms. By order of the police, the Château shuts its doors at midnight excepting Fridays and Saturdays when it shuts at 3h00.

Exceptional wedding ceremonies take place on the 2nd, 3rd and 4th Saturdays of the month at:

- 11:00 a.m.
- 01:00 p.m.
- 02:30 p.m.
- 04:00 p.m.

Each married couple is allowed 15 minutes to decorate the room before the service, decorations which must be taken down immediately after the ceremony ends.

Château d'Aigle is open to the public at the following times:

- November to March: 10:00 am. to 05:00 p.m.
- April to October: 10:00 a.m. to 06:00 p.m.

Hiring a reception room in Château d'Aigle does not give exclusive occupational rights to the venue. Naturally, visitors will not be allowed to go into the private reception halls but will still be free to visit the various rooms in the museum and the rest of the Château.

Article 2 – Cocktails and dinners

Château d'Aigle's reception halls are only hired out in tandem with a cocktail or dinner organised by one of the registered outside caterers unless they are being used for a seminar, general assembly, or weddings.

Sparkling wines, champagne and spirits are not subject to this restriction.

In case of violation of this rule, organisers will have to pay a CHF 1,000. — surcharge.

So as to maximise the best use of equipment, only the caterers are allowed to set up the room.

All questions concerning the set up and decoration of the room must be directed to the caterers.

Article 3 – Parking & organisation

Parking places around Château d'Aigle are limited. Only 10 places are available, and these cannot be reserved as they are also used by regular Château visitors and clients of the restaurant La Pinte du Paradis. For security and access reasons, it is strictly forbidden to park in front of the Château or on the road. Council rules and regulations are routinely implemented by police controls of the area. Parking spaces are available on the Avenue du Chamossaire as well as the Place Chevron. It is of course possible to drive up to the Château to drop off passengers.

Deliveries of equipment by organisers or by other suppliers of wine, flowers, etc. can only be carried out with approval from Château d'Aigle management. Appointments must be fixed ahead of time so as to coordinate all deliveries and storage needs. Vehicles are only allowed to park in front of the Château for as long as it takes to deliver.

Article 4 – Security and damages

Any event taking place on Château premises which involves over 150 people must be supervised by a security agent appointed and paid for by the organisers. Château d'Aigle generally works with the Securitas company.

Any damages to Château d'Aigle or to the equipment provided will be invoiced to the organisers who are kindly asked to voluntarily report all known damages to the Château reception desk.

It is forbidden to use Sellotape, nails or drawing pins on the walls, floors, and ceilings of all the rooms in Château d'Aigle.

Throwing rice, flower petals or anything which would litter the floors of Château d'Aigle is strictly prohibited. Any extra cleaning will be charged to the organisers. Use of incandescent objects such as flaming torches, fireworks and smoke bombs is strictly prohibited in and around the premises of Château d'Aigle.

Dogs are not welcome in Château d'Aigle's reception halls.

Article 5 – Rates & payment conditions

Hire of the halls include the following amenities:

- Use of the room and/or the interior courtyards of the Château and/or the garden rented according to conditions of the contract, but this never includes the exterior of Château d'Aigle which is public property
- Electricity and heating (if required)
- Use of the kitchens and all equipment needed to serve a cocktail or a dinner by one of the official caterers
- Putting the chairs in place for an exceptional ceremony or a seminar
- Event administration

Payment is to be made as outlined below:

- 50% of the global cost at the time of booking, so guaranteeing the reservation
- The balance, following the event

The amount indicated on the rental contract includes all relevant taxes. Supplements may be added in the following cases:

- Use of room other than indicated in the contract
- Damage and breakages
- Wine service that doesn't conform to general terms and conditions

Once the signed contract has been returned, the booking is considered to be fixed. Any changes or cancellation will incur an administrative charge of CHF100.-. If an event is cancelled, the down payment is not reimbursed. If the cancellation is announced less than one month before the event, the full cost of the programme will be invoiced to the organisers.

Article 6 – Cleaning

Cleaning and tidying of the rented rooms are included in the price.

The present rules and regulations form an integral part of the rental contract concluded between the organisers and Château d'Aigle. The conclusion of a rental contract explicitly implies the acceptance of the present rules and regulations by the organisers.
